Celebrating the 1000 year anniversary of King Canute!

Monday – Wednesday 25, 26, & 27 April starting at 7.15 and departing from the Bargate in Southampton

We present “Hold Back the Tide - or the Comical Tragedy of King Canute” a story full of Vile Vikings, Surly Saxons and Nasty Normans, a story of how Hamtun became Southampton, a tale that will explain if Canute really did get his feet wet holding back the tide, an epic penned by that great master Mr. W Shakespeare. That’s Walter Shakespeare, Will’s not so quite well known cousin. For those who remember Walter’s heroic attempt to tell the story of Bevis of Hamtun you know what to expect!

Summer Show on tour

Join us in Bishopstoke this summer (dates to be finalised) but look out for a performance in July of

“THE REVEREND SEDGWICK’S HISTORICAL PAGEANT”

Like a number of Victorian Vicars who loved history and theatricals, the Reverend Sedgwick has penned a pageant about the history of old Bishopstoke, a tale of forbidden love, of tragic partings, and cheese. He had hoped the local school would help stage his pageant but alas the pupils have run away to Bishopstoke woods and so it is to the local bargees and canal workers that the Reverend has turned for support.

Ghostly Goings On this Halloween!

'Tis back to basics for Halloween this year, we wanted to bring you intestines, bloated corpses, blood stained murderers, to delve into historic cesspits and summon the grim reaper. We have called upon an intrepid student of the supernatural to lead our rummage through the undead, so join us in October for

SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE'S GHOST HUNT!

30th & 31st October 7 & 9 pm from Holy Rood Church,
High St, Southampton

Christmas in Romsey!

Christmas Ghost Tours are also going on tour – after a few year absence and a blotting out of the memory, the good folk of Romsey are welcoming us back, if not with open arms at least with cloves of garlic and sturdy pitchforks

The Trials of Romsey

takes to the streets 12, 14, & 16 December 7.30 from Romsey Square
(in front of Cornmarket / Barclays Bank), Romsey

Other Appearances!

And if you haven't had enough of us you can catch up with some of the characters who have been appearing in the Deeds of Henry V on line at www.roadtoagincourt.co.uk who will be making a guest appearance at Manor Farm Country Park on the 30 & 31 July when a medieval village will appear in the park near to where the Grace Dieu was moored in the years after Agincourt.

Don't forget you can keep up to date on all our shows on our social media pages at www.facebook.com/sarahsiddonsfc and www.twitter.com/sarahsiddonsfc and at our (hopefully soon to be updated) website at www.sarahsiddonsfanclub.org

Thank you for your support and we hope to see you at an event soon!
